AFTER the remarks in our last issue relative to the disturbances in the south-west were sent to press, we learned that the Peking Gazette of date the 30th September, contains an Imperial Decree, announcing the loss in August of three towns in the south of Hoo-nan, as reported by Memorial from Sai-shangah and Ching-keu-tsai.

The capture of these places being, H. I. M. says, attributable to the incapacity of the above Ministers to devise skilful plans, they are held wholly inexcusable, notwithstanding that the towns were afterwards recovered, and are to have their demerits considered by the Board of Punishments.

The conduct of the operations against the rebellious banditti is now committed to Seu Kwang-tsin Governor General of the two Kwang Provinces; who, having been successful in repeated engagements by land and water with the rebels of the two Kwang, is now ordered to lead his victorious troops to Hoo-nan, and on combining his forces with the choice troops now being assembled there from each province, to make a clean sweep of the "thieving pest."

It is worthy of remark, that for more than a year past, the Peking Gazettes have teemed with Memorials and Decrees on this subject. Among the former none have been more profuse or vaunting than those from Governor Seu of Canton. His character is already well known to foreigners as a sanguinary bigot,—one of the Lin school—of a merciless disposition towards his own countrymen, and full of hatred against foreigners.

In a long Memorial in the same Gazette, Seu describes some of the leaders of the Kwang-see insurgents as members of the Shang-te Hwuy, or Society of the Deity; which, he says, is another branch of the Tien-choo-keaou, or Religion of the Lord of Heaven. The poison of these heresies, he says, has been introduced by the barbarians into China, and the people when once infected with them, obstinately and blindly adhere to their errors, and even look on death as only returning home.

As Governor Seu in his avowed belief that these doctrines are more pernicious and dangerous than other systems of error, speaks of the persecuting Laws against Christianity in China, his career will no doubt attract the attention of those most likely to be affected by his proceedings. We will not speculate on his chances of "exterminating the banditti" with his Chaou-choo, or Fokien volunteers, but his energy is as undoubted as his ferocity of disposition.

To bring to a speedy conclusion these long continued disturbances which are now injuriously affecting the trade of Soochow, is an object so desirable, that few will care as to what means it may be effected by; but it would have been better in many ways had it been accomplished by Sai-shangah, than by such a man as Seu, of whom, if finally triumphant over the insurgents, we shall yet hear more.

WE would call the attention of the Foreign Community to an evil which threatens to increase in equal ratio with the trade at this Port, and be productive of serious consequences to the good understanding which should exist between, to use a Chinese expression, the people of the inside and outside nations; we refer to the lawless and ungovernable class of Seamen who find their way here, desert their vessels with perfect impunity, and taking up their quarters in the vicinity of the Yang-king pang where it is all but hopeless to trace or apprehend them, lead a life of riot and debauchery until their means are expended and till it becomes convenient to go to sea again. Jack then makes his appearance, condescends to accept some thirty dollars a month for his services with a month's advance for a final flare up, and is off with the intention of returning as soon as possible; short runs and long wages suit his book right well. Shanghae is not a place where people are bothered with Police, and a man can keep his hand in there for either the stick or knife without much fear of consequences. But our readers will say surely this is overdrawn? or if not, why do not the local authorities interfere and stop it? in the first place we reply it is not overdrawn—it is a simple outline of facts well known to every Resident in the place and if any one is ignorant, let him step down some Sunday evening particularly to the faubourg in question and try what ocular or, may be, knuckular demonstration will do to enlighten or darken him on the subject;—and in the second place where are the available means to enable the authorities to act with any save partial and temporary results? The Chinese might be called on to the support of law and order but so may spirits be called from the vasty deep—only will they come? moreover is it not somewhat of a question whether they ought to be called on in such a case? we take from them by the force of Treaties all power of jurisdiction over us and para ratione we are bound to see our people do not offend. They, without doubt, look at it in this point of view, and our only reply if the retort were made would be, neither Governments nor the Residents give the means of restraining or preventing this crying nuisance and shame, and so it must go on; Chinese must be beaten and ill-used; Foreigners stand in danger of their lives, Ladies walking in the public roads liable to be insulted, and Jack, if that good and time honored name is not disgraced by being applied to the red shirted hungry looking loafers that man ships now-a-days, Jack, save the mark? must have it all his own way. We repeat it is to this evil we would call the attention of the Foreign Community. The day is not far distant when meer running a drunken muck will not be the only exhibition of our maritime friends; unless we are greatly in error their eccentricities will extend to a difficulty in understanding the difference between meum and tuum one of these fine nights; our Godowns even our Residences offer a fair return for an investment in crow bars and crape-masks, and the happy security we fancy we enjoy may receive a rude shock when we least expect it. We urge then that some measures should be taken to establish an effective police force, half a dozen Europeans would be sufficient to keep something like order and check in a degree, if not effectually, the present licence which exists among the merchant seamen. It is for the benefit of all, for our security, and our good name, that we should take means to secure that object; a rate levied for that purpose would fall lightly on the Foreign Inhabitants, and the benefit to be obtained is too patent to permit of very forcible objections thereto being sustained. Be that as it may it is due from us at least as nations assuming to be more civilized than the people in whose country we dwell to show them, that we merit our boast, and are ready to and do enforce law and order among a class who at present appear to heed either one or the other but very little; we know that every exertion has been made by the Consular Representatives at the Port to check the evil, but it is simply a matter of physical force to effect this; they may "undersign" each other and expend any quantity of blue ribbon and wax in the hope of doing something, but one strong arm with a good staff in its hand would have much more effect, than all the despatch writing in the world; let the Foreign Community then give the arm and the staff, and leave the officials to agitate upon some more hopeful subject.

WE perceive the Regatta is to come off on Friday next, and hope our young fellows will be in prime condition on the day appointed. The weather promises to be auspicious, and, as some previous training has been undergone, we trust our brave lads will do something for the honor of Shanghae upon the occasion.

The Races are to come off the week following.

A VERY interesting Report of the Hospital at Ningpo has been handed to us, the first portion of which will be found in our columns of to-day. Particular reference is therein made to Cholera asphyxia, and the singular fact that Chinese and European practitioners have arrived at a similar mode of treating it. We regret to observe that the funds at the disposal of the Medical Mission* are not adequate to all its requirements, and we think we are not far wrong in simply alluding to the circumstance, in order that some benevolent parties may be induced to afford aid in extending the benefits of so valuable an Institution at Ningpo, the favorite resort of so many of our European residents.

* Messrs. Russell & Co. are the treasurers.

WE beg to call the attention of our readers to an article in another column, headed Russia in Central Asia. This article is an editorial from a number of the New York Tribune, and embodies an amount of important information seldom comprised in so small a compass. This information is the more important as it has reference to those vast regions of Central Asia, concerning which it is difficult for the most prying to obtain any thing like accurate intelligence, owing, on the one hand, to the jealously guarded policy of Russia, and on the other to the extreme exclusiveness of China. The position of this great Chinese Empire becomes every month more and more a matter of thrilling interest. The advancements of Russia by sure and certain steps through Central Asia on the north, and the onward victories of British arms through Burmah on the west are signs of no small import, in these times of progress. It, therefore, well becomes residents at the far north-east port of Shanghae, to keep themselves well posted up touching all such matters.

(Communicated.)

Two weeks back we reported the occurrence of serious disturbances at the town of Tsing-poo, distant about 25 miles from this place. We are now informed that the people of the district demanded that the Magistrate should issue a Proclamation, and engrave it on a stone pillar, whereby any increase of taxation should be prohibited; and failing to obtain this they seized upon the Tsing-lung (Azure Dragon) Monastery as their head-quarters of defence. The militia-men sent by the Taoutai of Shanghai it is said had a fight on the 18th instant with the Tsing-poo people, in which five of the latter were killed, and six taken prisoners. Matters are evidently considered sufficiently serious, since 2,000 soldiers are to be sent from Soochow, 400 hundred from Sung-kiang, and 200 from Shanghai. We hope "our worthy" Taoutai will not permit himself to mingle further in this affair, as if called on to proceed in person to reduce the malcontents to reason, his absence would be a calamity to this place. Yesterday the Shanghai invincibles were reviewed by Colonel Lew, the local Falstaff, when the Artillery, represented by three brass guns, was exercised preparatory to "active service."

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA HERALD."

DEAR SIR,—Allow me through the medium of your paper, to call the attention of "Ye legislative powers," to the unorganized state of the sanpan flotilla.

These Fokien fellows are at present so independent and overbearing, that it is with difficulty you can induce any one of them to move from the Jetty, should you have occasion to go afloat;—if after much delay, and plenty of sauciness, they do condescend, it is only the chances are to take you alongside the ship! they never think of bringing you back! so that it frequently occurs (to them no doubt a very good joke) that you find yourself "left in the lurch," the sanpan having taken the earliest opportunity to "mizzle," quite regardless of your orders or money.

Cannot this state of things be remedied? now that we have got a Harbour Master.

At Singapore and Hongkong, these sanpans, and at the former place even boats and junks too, are all numbered—and under proper control. Why not adopt the same plan here, where it is so much more required? and where these Canton and Fokien scoundrels, should not be allowed to exercise their sway, to the bad example of, the comparatively civil and peaceable people of these parts.—I remain, your obedient servant,

"TEACH THEM CIVILITY."

JOTTINGS ON THE SCIENCE OF THE CHINESE.

ARITHMETIC.

The 4th problem supposes 7 treasuries, each possessing an equal sum of money originally, but being continuously reduced by daily drafts differing in amount, on the respective funds; the original stock and the number of days which the exhausting process has gone on in each, are both unknown; from the known daily drafts and the remainders, it is required to find the original sums.

The 5th problem gives 3 agriculturists, having each an equal quantity of grain to dispose of; which being sold at 3 different places according to different measures, the respective surplus quantities over the full measures being given, it is required to find the whole amount.

The 6th problem supposes 3 companies of troops proceeding to the capital, the daily rate of each, and the hours of the day at which they arrive being given, to find the original distance.

The 7th problem refers to couriers of different speed, the daily rate of travelling being given, to find what would be the first place on the road, where both would halt for the night.

The 8th problem is on erecting the basement for a building, with one of 4 different kinds of bricks, which the builder is at liberty to select at will; the dimensions of the several bricks are given, with the surplus or deficiency in the gross dimensions, from which it is required to find the dimensions of the erection.

The 9th problem is as follows:—

A report being raised that 3 rice bins each containing the same amount, have been robbed, the original quantity is not known, but it is found that in the left hand one, there is 1 shing 4 ho left; in the middle one, there is 1 shing 4 ho left; in the right hand one, there is 1 ho remaining; the thieves being caught, A confesses that he took a bowful-le at night and filled it several times out of the left hand bin, putting the contents in a bag; B confesses having hastily taken a wooden shoe several times full, out of the middle bin; C says he took a bowl and filled it successively out of the right hand bin. Examining the three vessels, the horse ladle is found to contain 1 shing 9 ho, the wooden shoe, 1 shing 7 ho, and the bowl, 1 shing 2 ho. What is the amount of rice lost, and how much did each take? Ans. Lost, 9 shih 5 tow 8 shing 3 ho. Stolen by A, 3 shih 1 tow 9 shing 3 ho; B, 3 shih 1 tow 7 shing 9 ho; C, 3 shih 1 tow 9 shing 2 ho.

The second division of Tsin's work is on the calculation of astronomical terms, which are also worked out by the Ta-yen. The 1st problem is how to calculate the 氣 K'e "time from the Winter solstice to the end of the Kea-tsze" for any given year. The 2nd is to calculate the 日 Jun "time to the Winter solstice, from any previous point in the 11th month," for any year. The 3rd is on the computation of the various terms (23 in number) requisite for adjusting the inequalities of the annual, lunar, and diurnal revolutions, reduced from a period of 7,848,183 years. The 4th is on calculating the inequalities of the apparent motions of the planets. The 5th is on the comparative length of the shadow on the sun-dial. The remaining four questions of this division, on measuring the fall of rain, and the fall of snow, do not properly belong to the Ta-yen.

At a time when astronomical instruments were far from having attained the precision of the present day, and observations were at best but comparatively rude, it will be seen that the above calculus was one of considerable importance, as enabling the astronomers, by a kind of dead reckoning to fix the length of the year and the various astronomical periods.

This appears to be the formula, or something very like it, which was known to the Hindoos under the name of the Cuttaca, or as it is translated "Pulveriser,"* implying unlimited multiplication, which is not far from the meaning of the Ta-yen, or "Great Extension." The process with its results, as found in the mathematical works of India, has engaged much attention in Europe, and given rise to some singular conjectures as to the antiquity of the science.

ON THE INTRODUCTION OF EUROPEAN ASTRONOMY BY THE JESUITS, AT PEKING.

Verbiest lived till 1688, and also wrote some works on Geography and published large maps of the world, distinguishing the zones according to their productions and illustrating them by figures of animals &c. From this it appears that he saw the importance of Physical Geography. His genius being mechanical he cast cannon for the emperor, which was complained of in Europe as unsuitable employment for a missionary. To quiet these scruples or relieve his own, he christened each piece of artillery with the name of some saint.

K'ang-he was, as the Jesuits say of him, one of those extraordinary men, who combining the highest mental endowments, with the most elevated political rank, appear only once in several centuries. It was through his love of literature, that so many fine editions of the Chinese classics and the philosophers, new lexicons, translations into his native Tartar and other works issued from the imperial press during his reign. His plans were all noble and comprehensive. Not satisfied with the Sin-fa-teh-shoo as the text book of science, he formed the plan of an encyclopædia of the exact sciences to be called Leuh-leih-yuen-yuen 律曆淵源. The Secret Sources of Harmony and Numbers. It was to be in three parts, Astronomy, Pure Mathematics, and Music. As the different sections in each part were completed by the Mandarins entrusted with the work, they were brought to him for examination and correction. He set apart a portion of time daily to superintend sheet by sheet this and many other large works.

The plan of the Astronomical portion* includes

* 曆象考成 Leih-seang-kaou-ching, Complete treatise on Astronomical calculation and the Heavenly Bodies.

(1) theory and descriptions, (2) method of calculation, and (3) tables, in all forty two chapters. There is apparently little in it, besides what had been given before by Schaal and his companions. The epoch indeed is changed from the first year of T'sung chung to the twenty third of K'ang-he, but the indications of new translations from there are no indications of new translations from there are no indications of new translations from there are no

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, 7, Prescot Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however the virulence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflammation set in so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it; fortunately she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills. (Signed) R. W. KIRKUS.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier, of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Welch.

Margaret McConnigan, nineteen years of age, residing at New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs: during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredible short space of time they effected a perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.

Free to Messrs. Thew & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement.—August 2nd, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquainted with their virtues. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before. (Signed) HENRY COE, North Street, Lynn, Norfolk.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF THE GRAVEL, AND A MOST DANGEROUS LIVER COMPLAINT.

Copy of a Letter addressed by J. K. Hodges, Esq., Sydney, to Mr. Joseph Wood, dated February 23rd, 1851.

Sir,—A Mr. Thomas Clark, a Settler at Lake George, was for a considerable time seriously afflicted with a complaint of the Liver, together with the Gravel. His medical attendants, after trying all their skill, candidly told him that his case was hopeless, and that further efforts useless. In this situation, and when expecting every day would terminate his existence, a friend recommended him to try Holloway's Pills, and as a forlorn hope he did so, the first dose gave him considerable relief, he therefore persevered in taking them according to the directions, and is now restored to perfect health. He will feel great pleasure in confirming this statement, or even make an affidavit to the same effect, should it be required. (Signed) Wm. JONES, Proprietor of the Goulburn Herald, New South Wales.

WONDERFUL EFFICACY OF HOLLOWAY'S PILLS IN CASES OF DROPSY.

Persons suffering from Dropsy, either about the turn of life, or at other times, should immediately have recourse to these Pills, as hundreds of persons are annually cured, by their use, of this direful complaint in its different stages, when all other means has failed.

These celebrated Pills are wonderfully effectious in the following complaints.

Ague, Asthma, Bilious Complaints, Blotches on the Skin, Bowel Complaints, Colics, Constipation of the Bowels, Consumption, Debility, Dropsy, Dysentery, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fevers, Fits, Gout, Indigestion, Inflammation, Jaundice, Liver Complaints, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Retention of Urine, Scrofula, or Kings Evil, Sore Throats, Stone and Gravel, Secondary Symptoms, Tic Douloureux, Tumours, Ulcers, Venereal affections, Worms of all kinds, Weakness, from whatever cause, &c., &c.

Sold at the Establishment of Professor Holloway, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar) London, and by all respectable Druggists, and Dealers in Medicines throughout the Civilized World, at the following prices—1s. 6d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. each Box. There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N.B.—Directions for the guidance of Patients in every Disorder are affixed to each Box.

The Enterprise, Captain Hart, consigned to Order, arrived from Ningpo yesterday in ballast. She encountered a heavy gale on her passage down last trip—below the "Rugged Islands"—and losing her rudder, rode it out at anchor for 48 hours without shelter.

ATMOSPHERICAL CHANGES

DURING THE WEEK ENDING 21ST OCTOBER, 1852.

The weather of the past week has been beautiful, the average temperature exceeding that of the corresponding week of three years by 2° 8'. The gathering of cotton proceeds rapidly, and the ploughing of the fields and sowing of wheat occupies much of the husbandman's attention. After seeing the greater portion of the autumn crop safely housed we will venture to affirm that this neighbourhood has not been blessed with such a plenteous harvest for some years past.
